COLLECTIVE IMPACT

Diverse organizations coming together to solve complex social problems

Our mission is to strengthen services to meet diverse human needs through the collaboration of individuals and organizations

The Five Conditions of Collective Impact Success. www.FSG.org

Collective Impact is more rigorous and specific than collaboration among organizations.

There are five conditions that, together, lead to meaningful results from Collective Impact:

1. Common agenda
2. Shared measurement
3. Mutually reinforcing activities
4. Continuous communication
5. Backbone organization

Common Agenda:

All participants have a shared vision for change including a common understanding of the problem and a joint approach to solving it through agreed upon actions.

Shared Measurement:

Collecting data and measuring results consistently across all participants ensures efforts remain aligned and participants hold each other accountable.

Mutually Reinforcing Activities:

Participant activities must be differentiated while still being coordinated through a mutually reinforcing plan of action.

Continuous Communication:

Consistent and open communication is needed across the many players to build trust, assure mutual objectives, and appreciate common motivation.

Backbone Organization:

Creating and managing collective impact requires a separate organization(s) with staff and a specific set of skills to serve as the backbone for the entire initiative and coordinate participating organizations and agencies.
